

Open up your heart

If I didn't love you
I guess I wouldn't sing this song
But, because I care for you,
I just can't let this go on

It's not as though you don't realize
I think you understand quite well
And you must know there's something wrong
Yes, I think you can tell

Now, I don't want to hurt you
And I don't want to see you fall apart
But how could I ever help you
When you never open up your heart?

If I didn't love you
I guess I wouldn't feel this way
But, unless you open your heart,
There's nothing more that I can say
